

Register your study with FORSbase

1 Create a new study

a) Log into FORSbase Login

b) Create a study My studies ⇒ Newstudy ⇒  ⇒ Save

2 Link people to the study

Note: Linking people to the study increases visibility. Following their rights, linked people can edit the study.

3 Attach documents

Study overview ⇒ Study details ⇒ Add document ⇒ Save

Do you have any documents you are willing to share that may help better understand your study (e.g. research proposal, publications)?

4 Submit your study

Study overview ⇒ Study details ⇒ Submit

Note: Once validated by FORS your study will appear in the FORSbase catalogue. After validation you will be able to go back to your study details and make further changes.

 If you wish to attach datasets and data files to your study for your own use, or for data sharing, see: Quick steps to depositing your data with FORSbase

Why register your study ?

Your research project will appear in the most complete research catalogue to date in the social sciences in Switzerland, along with over 10'000 other projects. It represents a great opportunity to make yourself better known in the field and for networking. Registering your study will also facilitate data sharing at a later stage if you intend to do so.

In FORSbase language...

A study is a research project. It usually involves the collection of data: quantitative, qualitative or mixed.

Documentation can be at the study level and/or the data file level. At the study level it consists of any useful information about the project and its results (e.g. research proposals, publications).
